

How to mutate Giant Turtles:

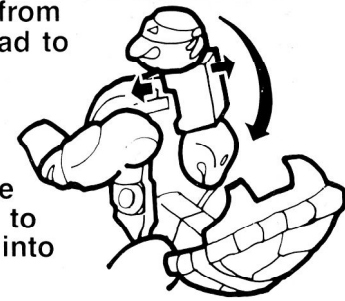

1. I'm a Giant mutant Turtle. Help me become my original pet self!

2. Crack the shell open at the neck. Rotate the side panels around and snap into the belt buckle.

3. To switch from mutant head to pet head: pull back, rotate, and push forward the ninja neck to lock head into position.

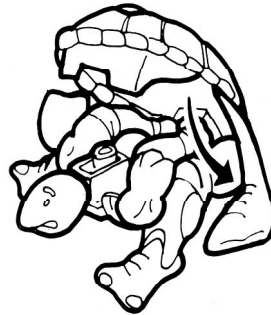

4. Rotate the mutant arms back and inward into shell. (Note: Mutant arms should end up positioned in middle of interior body as shown.)

5. Swing the mutant legs forward to become the front pet legs. (Note: Keep legs positioned close to sides of body.) Hinge feet down flat on ground.

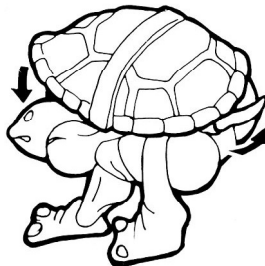

6. Swing out the hind pet Turtle legs from inside the back shell. (Note: Hind legs should be positioned behind front pet legs as shown.)

Please Note:

- Never force limbs into position. If parts don't fit comfortably or the shell does not close easily, you may have missed a step. Always keep the limbs tucked in, positioned close to body.
- If Turtle shell pops off, simply snap it back on.
- The enclosed mutation chart explains the evolution of these real Giant mutatin' Turtles.
- Don't forget being a mutant master takes practice. The more you mutate, the better you become.

7. Close shell and rotate the Turtle tail out.

8. Now I'm a pet Turtle! To help me become a mutant just reverse the above steps or reference inside panel on package.
