Lunar Leonardo™:

The Moonwalkin' Mutant Master!

Lunar Leonardo is proud to celebrate the historic moon landing of Apollo 11 on July 20, 1969. He's so proud that he's decided to follow in the footsteps of his hero human astronauts and go where no Turtle or man has dared to go—the lunar poles. Why? We're talkin' state o' the taste moon pie! If that's not reason enough to explore space, then why bother? Lunar Leonardo's ready to roll out his astro American flag, too, when he makes it to the moon. Once Lunar Leonardo gets to where he's goin', he's got his self-contained environmental pack (SEP) and hero hose to keep him alive! And his no leak, super seal space helmet makes breathing even more possible.
